Imagine saving your research on your phone while you are study session, at the cafe, or waiting in line to check-out your groceries, and being able to retrieve it months later from your computer when it is time to write your paper. That is true mobility! The new Discover GALILEO search service provided by EBSCO allows users to have easy, cross-device access through the regular browser on their phone, tablet, and computer.

Any GALILEO user can simply log into GALILEO from their phone using their institutional password, enter a search in the Discover GALILEO search box, and have complete access to all features in a mobile-optimized view, including their own personal folder. Users can create a personal folder from any device or computer and save materials into that folder for subsequent access on any other device or computer.
