Happy New Year
Welcome to the Gay 90's
They're finally here – the gay 90s! The decade that, at least in name, is ours. What changes will we see and what preparations can we make to ensure that the Gay 90s are the best yet for the gay and lesbian community? We wish we had the answers, but nobody can predict the future. Instead, what we would like to offer are a few suggestions for a better and happier decade:
• Safe sex – Our community continues to be hit hard by AIDS. Although we have educated ourselves, and are taking precautions, we must not be lulled by the complacency of our past and present presidential administrations into believing that AIDS does not exist.
• Politics – Get involved, stay involved – on a local level and on the national level. Believe it or not, politicians listen, especially if we are consistent and vocal. You can make a difference. With the increase in violence against us, your life may depend on it.
• Personal power – The best thing you can do for yourself, and for those you love, is to take care of yourself – physically, emotionally and spiritually. Do what you need to do to feel alive, vital and worthwhile.
And what could possibly ring in the Gay 90's with more fun and pizzazz than three of the most glamorous "showgirls" in the Southeast? Special thanks to our cover models (l-r) Leah Statom, Amber Richards, and Lauren Michaels.
Leah, currently a model with Broadstrokes and the holder of a B.S. in Engineering is a relative newcomer to female impersonation. Though not yet a veteran, she has placed well in several pageants and has developed her own identifying slogan – "Don't let queens drive drunk!".
Amber's talents as a comedian have apparently grown right along with her famous impersonations during 11 years of work in the entertainment industry. The winner of national and international titles doesn't make New Year's resolutions, because she knows she won't keep them.
Lauren's message for the New Year cuts to the heart of gay and lesbian life – "Stop being so judgmental of each other... give people a break and take care of yourself." She adds a note of thanks to Blake's for their sponsorship.
We would also like to thank Portraits and More for their work, and The Party Station for their set design.
Our thanks to everyone!
HAPPY NEW YEAR!

UGA HISTORIC NEWSPAPER TRIVIA

TRIVIA RULES

We will play 5~ Rounds of Trivia

We will ask you 3~ questions a Round

You will answer those questions on your sheet with your team

We will repeat any of those questions if you need

We will then read the answers to the questions back to you and scoring will be done on the trust system

Each round will be a little different so listen up when we explain the particulars of that round

Don't look things up y'all, it's about figuring things out with what you and your team already know right now

Be kind to each other and let's have some fun!!!

FLORIDA MAN INVENTS AERIAL TORPEDO

Washington, Jan. 23.—Herman F. Davis, of St. Augustine, inventor of the aerial torpedo, accompanied by Mrs. Davis, is in Washington on an important secret mission. Mr. Davis has been here several times since the European war began and it is known that he has been in conference with Sir Cecil Spring-Rice, the British ambassador, the French ambassador, M. Jusserand, and possibly others with regard to his torpedo, but he will say nothing concerning this matter or what the direct purpose of his conferences with the foreign representatives just named is.

Boston, Jan. 15.—Nine persons are known to have been killed and about fifty injured by the explosion of a huge tank of molasses on the water front off Commercial street, near Keany square today. Eight bodies were removed from the wreckage and one man died at the relief hospital. Most of those injured suffered only from bruises.

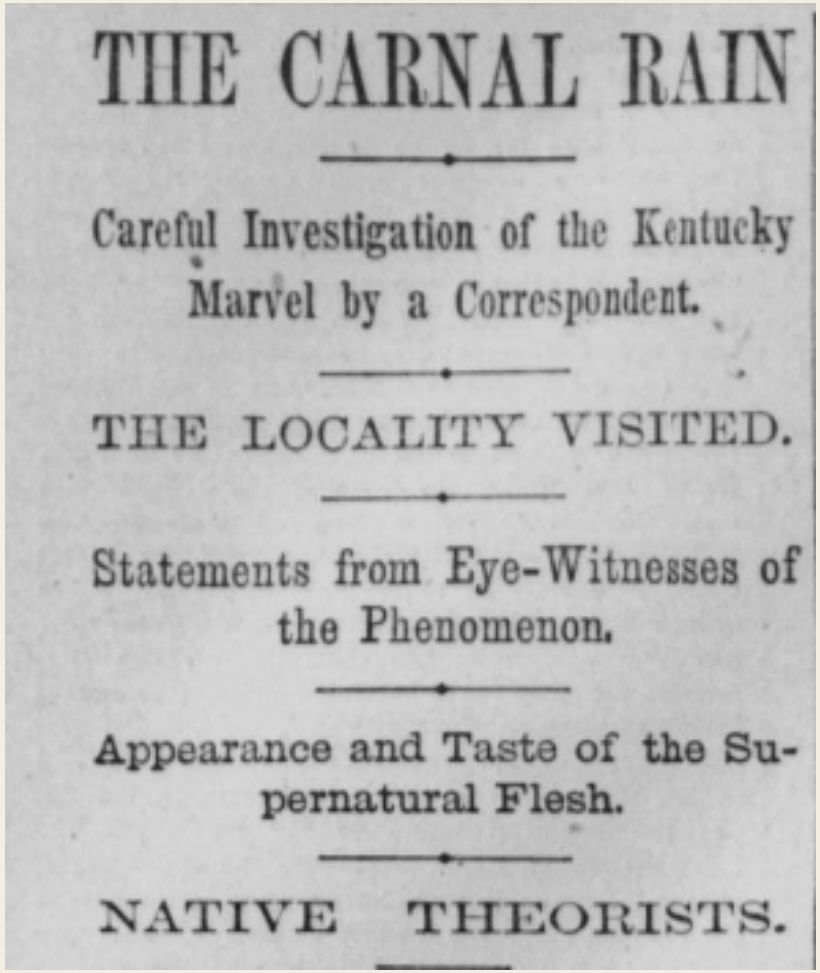

The cause of the explosion has not been definitely determined. Walter L. Wedger, explosives expert, said that he was not prepared to give a final opinion, but that it seemed probable, it resulted from gas fumes generated by fermenting molasses within the

Question 3

THE FOOT-BALL MATCH.

On Saturday, November 6th, Princeton sent twenty-five picked men to play our twenty-five a match game of foot-ball. The strangers came up in the 10 o'clock train, and brought a good number of backers with them. After dinner, and a stroll around the town, during which stroll billiards received a good deal of attention, the crowds began to assemble at the ball ground, which, for the benefit of the ignorant, we would say, is a lot about a hundred yards wide, extending from College Avenue to Sicard-street. Previous to calling the game, the ground presented an animated picture. Grim-looking players were silently stripping, each one surrounded by sympathizing friends, while around each of the captains was a little crowd, intent upon giving advice, and saying as much as possible. The appearance of the Princeton men was very different from that of our own players. They were almost without exception tall and muscular, while the majority of our twenty-five are small and light, but possess the merit of being up to much more than they look.
