Onboarding the Flight Crew:

Preparing to Fly the new EBSCO User Interface (UI)

Kate Hill, MLIS Library Services Engineer (Southeast and Midwest)

Kassie McLaughlin, MLIS, Library Services Engineer (FOLIO)

Flight Plan

- Rollout for GALILEO and Next Steps
- Demo of the New UI
- Integrations available
- Roadmap of New UI
- Questions

Your Role

- Attend training sessions hosted by GALILEO and EBSCO
- Test, test, test!
- Make training material (instructional videos/orientations)
- Let patrons know about transition

Transitioning to the New EDS

- GALILEO working on transition in cohorts
  - First cohort: K12, Public, Technical Colleges (mid-August)
  - Second cohort: All remaining accounts (USG and private colleges) (January 2024)
- Your New EDS preview reflects your current EDS.
- Any old links and search boxes will automatically redirect to the new interface

What's staying the same?

- Content depth and breadth – Full-text searching of journals and books from academic publishers
- Relevancy ranking – Uses the following priorities and has no bias toward content from any provider:
    1. Match on subject headings from controlled vocabularies
    2. Match on article titles
    3. Match on author keywords
    4. Match on keywords within abstracts
    5. Match on keywords within full text
- Value Ranking – Recency/currency, document type, length

What's changing?

- Modern, user-friendly and intuitive layout to support accessibility and responsive design
- Improved personalization with My Dashboard
- Permalinks
  - No longer session based!
- Improved display of PDF and eBook content
- Important patron functionality moved out of detailed record

Why were changes made in general?

- User Testing and Accessibility
  - WCAG 2.1 AA compliance
  - Attempt to make things less overwhelming (filters, search expanders)
  - Used to streamlined, personalized work across multiple devices, working in short bursts (dashboard)

Response of grizzly bears (Ursus arctos) to pipelines in Alberta

Abstract
This research provides the first in-depth analysis of fine-scale grizzly bear habitat selection and movement patterns in response to the linear footprints cleared for below-ground pipelines in Alberta. Using an extensive set of GPS location data from collared grizzly bears, we were able to determine that grizzly bears selected for younger pipelines (mean age since last construction~6.5 years), which are known to have a greater abundance of important bear foods. Bears also selected for wider corridors that were disturbed for construction more than once. During the spring season, sex/age class was an important predictor of grizzly bear use of pipelines, with adult female bears more likely to use these features than other sex/age classes. Examination of movement patterns revealed that pipeline density influenced grizzly bears' movement rates and path straightness, particularly in the spring, when bears moved more slowly and movement paths were more tortuous in areas with higher pipeline densities. These movement patterns are consistent with foraging behavior and further indicate that bears are not exhibiting avoidance behaviors or displacement by pipeline features, and pipelines may be functioning as seasonally important foraging areas for grizzly bears in Alberta.

Current Integrations

What’s changing?

Why are they different in the New EDS?

- Re-built apps/widgets for the new user interface
- GALILEO will be managing this process for sites (moving your integrations over, even for self-managed sites)
- Conducting a widget audit first to ensure all functionality addressed

Current Integrations

- LibGuides
- LibChat/LibraryH3lp/RefChatter
- Supplemental Sources
- Highlighted search terms (custom placards)
- API CustomLinks
- Credo/WorldCat Integrations

Chat Integration

- Image fixed but text can be changed
- ✓=available, X=not available (dynamic availability)
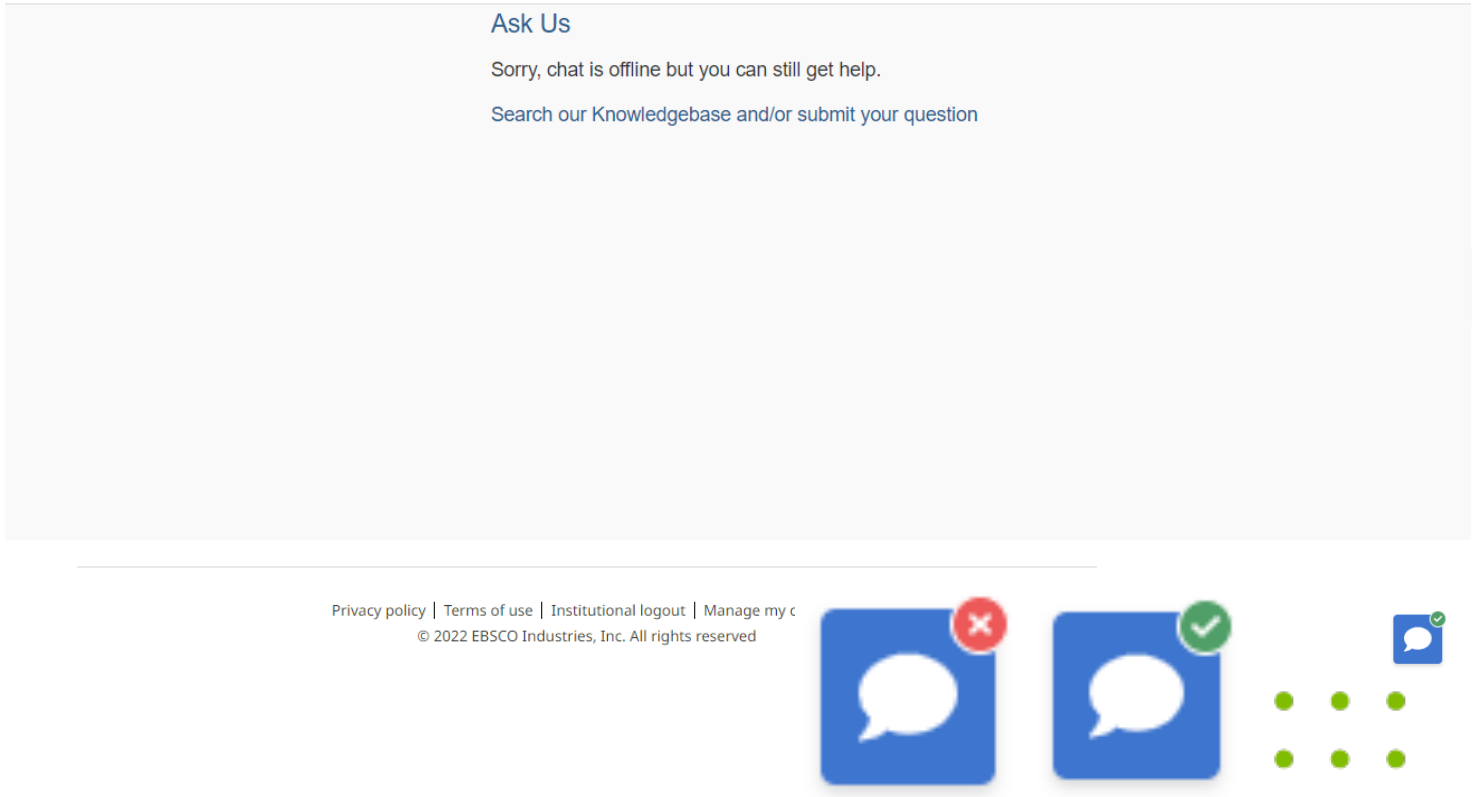
- Chat opens in a new tab
- LibChat allows you to choose your method of offline access



Custom Placards Integration

- An integration that allows you to highlight services, resources, or other community specific information via a placard
- Displays as a featured/targeted result above the main list of your search results
- Add up to 100 custom placards

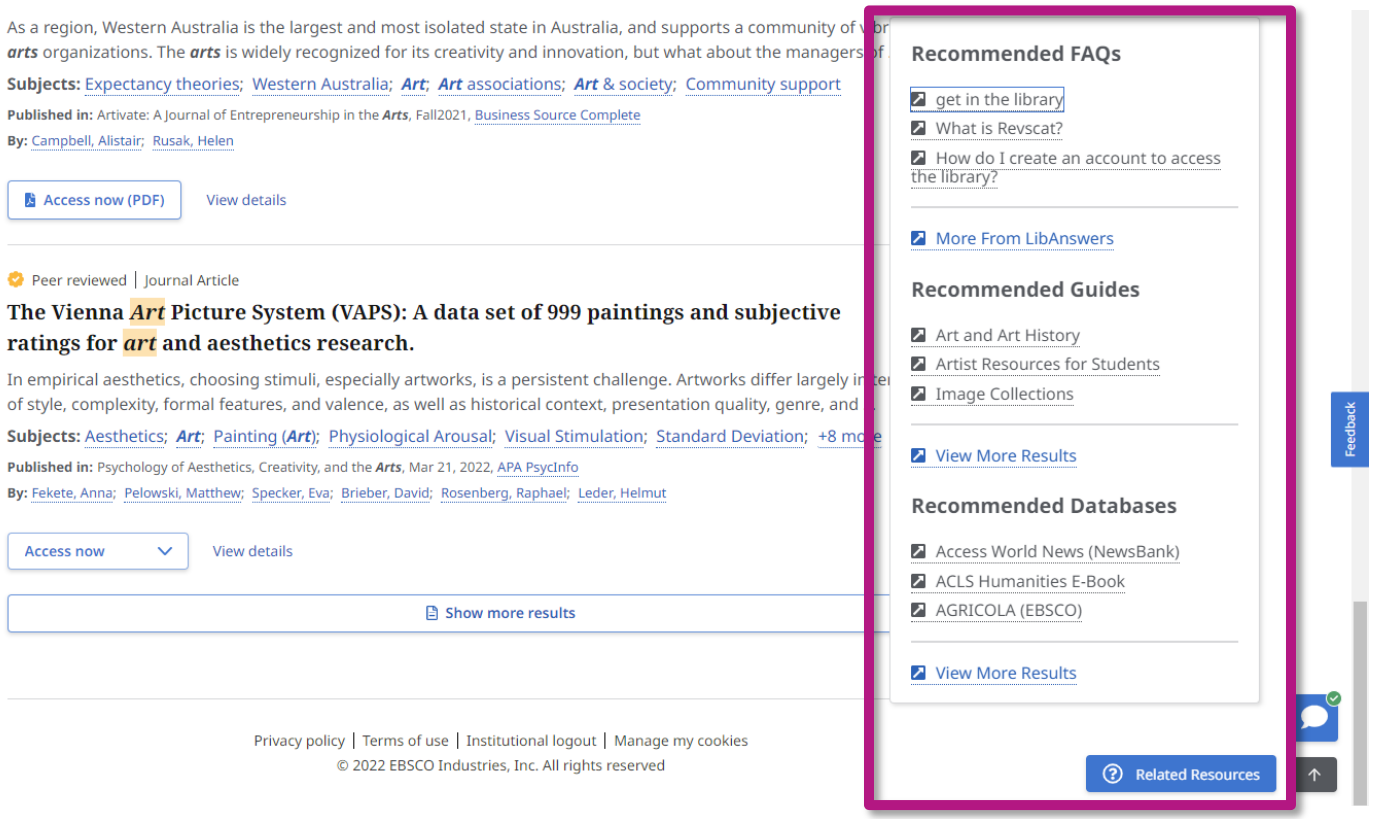
Springshare Integration

- Three integrations leveraging Springshare's LibApps APIs
  - LibGuides
  - LibGuides Databases A-Z
  - LibAnswers
- Add one, two, or all three of the integrations
- Customize titles and links



Supplemental Sources

- When you click on Supplemental Sources, you'll see a page with two levels:
  - Drop-down to send a search term to a target platform
  - Platform-level links with customizable text and description
- Links open in a new tab
- Add up to 21 Supplemental Sources

New UI Roadmap

What’s coming?

July 2023

- Text to Speech for PDF/HTML
- Better removal of Catalog and IR results from Full Text Searches
- Additional top placards (DynaMed, Learning Express)

Timeline For Upcoming Features

Late 2023:

- RTAC enhancements (including sorting)
- Search alerts
- More branding flexibility
- Advanced search enhancements
  - Set as landing page
  - Additional filters

Timeline For Upcoming Features

- 2024
  - Journal Alerts (January)
  - Filters (including renaming Content Provider as Database)
  - Custom Folders added

Further out on Road Map

- Search History
- Exposure of Expanders and Search Modes

GALILEO's Rollout Plan
