

GALILEO Changes: 2007

CSA Database Changes

Tuesday, October 30, 2007 - 8:56:40 am

Dear GALILEO Users,

CSA Agricultural and Environmental Biotechnology Abstracts has been removed from GALILEO menus. This database is now a subset of CSA Biotechnology and Bioengineering Abstracts.

This change only affects institutions who subscribe to CSA databases through GALILEO:

University System of Georgia institutions
Wesleyan College

If you have Express Links to CSA Agricultural and Environmental Biotechnology Abstracts on your library website or within subject guides, please replace them with the Express Link to CSA Biotechnology and Bioengineering Abstracts:

<http://www.galileo.usg.edu/express?link=zccb>

— GALILEO Support Team

---

E-Books Index added to GALILEO menus

Tuesday, September 11, 2007 - 9:04:25 am

E-Books Index, an OCLC FirstSearch database, has been added to GALILEO database menus. E-Books Index includes records for more than 450,000 eBooks that have been cataloged by OCLC member libraries, including titles available from NetLibrary and other providers. E-Books Index is an addition to the FirstSearch base package available to USG, AMPALS, GPALS, technical colleges, and public libraries. The Express Link for this resource is <http://www.galileo.usg.edu/express?link=zobo>.

— GALILEO Support Team

---

Georgia ProQuest (SIRS) Newsletter available

Thursday, September 6, 2007 - 10:46:44 am

ProQuest has created a newsletter just for Georgia's GALILEO users that's filled with information on SIRS databases, including hands-on student activities that are linked to Georgia standards, database highlights and updates, and more. The premier September issue is available at http://www.proquestk12.com/bulletins/archive/0907\_GA.html.

You can subscribe to receive the newsletter directly to your inbox at <http://www.proquestk12.com/signup.shtml> (Be sure to check the box for the "Georgia Solutions Newsletter.")

— GALILEO Support Team

---

Catalogue of the Trustees, Officers, Alumni and Matriculates of the University of Georgia at Athens, Georgia, 1785-1906 available in demo

Thursday, August 30, 2007 - 3:15:46 pm

The "Catalogue of the Trustees, Officers, Alumni and Matriculates of the University of Georgia at Athens, Georgia, 1785-1906" site, a new resource from the Digital Library of Georgia has been added to the GALILEO demo system and is available for your preview at <http://dlg.galileo.usg.edu/1906catalogue/>. An announcement describing the resource from the Digital Library of Georgia is below.

----- ANNOUNCEMENT -----

The Digital Library of Georgia is pleased to announce its newest Web resource: Catalogue of the Trustees, Officers, Alumni and Matriculates of the University of Georgia at Athens, Georgia, 1785-1906.

As early as 1853 the University of Georgia started issuing a listing of faculty, officers and graduates, entirely printed in Latin. The work was periodically reissued with more recent graduates being added. By the time the last issue appeared in 1906, the Catalogue of the Trustees, Officers, Alumni and Matriculates was being published in convenient English and had accumulated a wealth of biographical information about the men associated with more than 100 years of the institution's history. The 1906 Catalogue complements the Centennial Alumni Catalog of 1901. The 1906 publication includes more individuals, while the 1901 offers greater detail about those listed.

The 1906 University Catalogue site is a project of the Digital Library of Georgia in association with the Hargrett Rare Book and Manuscript Library.

The catalogue is available in both PDF and DjVu versions.

----- END OF ANNOUNCEMENT -----

— GALILEO Support Team

---

SFX Local Resource Integration (SFX-LRI)

Wednesday, August 8, 2007 - 2:00:27 pm

We are pleased to announce that Find It (SFX) linking and A-Z list services in GALILEO can now be localized with your institution's local resources. As part of year two of the GALILEO upgrade, the process has been piloted with a number of institutions and will now become a production service. Several steps are required, including:

- * Sharing information about your institution's online resources through a permanent web-based workspace for your institution
- * Communicating with vendors
- * Configuring the resources (GALILEO will do this based on the information you provide)
- * Testing configured resources

If your institution is interested in participating in localization of SFX, or if you have questions about the process, please submit a request to GALILEO via the Contact Us link located in the top right corner of the GALILEO Homepage.

Please see our FAQs for more information about Find It:

<http://www.usg.edu/galileo/help/index.phtml?topic=findit>

— GALILEO Support Team

---

Selected EBSCO databases replaced August 10th

Wednesday, August 8, 2007 - 2:00:09 pm

As announced at the beginning of July, several new EBSCO databases are now being offered through GALILEO. Several of the new additions are actually replacements for databases that are currently appearing on GALILEO menus.

On Friday, August 10th, the following databases will be replaced on GALILEO menus:

Academic Search Premier
Business Source Premier
Business Source Premier Enhanced
Health Source Consumer Edition
Revistas de comercio (Spanish interface to Business Source Premier)

Revistas de Investigacion (Spanish interface to Academic Search Premier)
Salud: Informacion para los Consumidores (Spanish interface to Health Source Consumer Edition)

These databases are replaced by the these new databases:

Academic Search Complete
Business Source Complete
Business Source Complete: Business Searching Interface
Consumer Health Complete

If you have any questions or need more information, please use GALILEO's
Contact Us feature or contact OIIT Customer Services at helpdesk@usg.edu.

— GALILEO Support Team

---

New LexisNexis Academic Interface

Tuesday, August 7, 2007 - 11:13:39 am

Over the past year, Lexis Nexis has been working on updating the LexisNexis
Academic interface. The link to the beta version of this new interface has been appearing for most GALILEO institutions for the last couple of months.

Beginning tomorrow morning, all GALILEO institutions who subscribe to LexisNexis
Academic will be sent to the new LexisNexis Academic interface. The following GALILEO consortia have access to LexisNexis Academic: University System of Georgia, Technical Colleges, AMPALS, and GPALS.

Highlights of the interface changes can be found on this page:

<http://www.lexisnexis.com/academicmigration/viewpage.asp?p=3>

— GALILEO Support Team

---

Books@Ovid and Medline with Full Text Added for USG Institutions

Thursday, July 19, 2007 - 10:19:08 am

Dear GALILEO Users,

We are pleased to announce that the University System of Georgia institutions have added two additional health sciences resources for FY08:

Books @ Ovid (Doody's Core Titles in the Health Sciences)

and

Medline with Fulltext (at EBSCOhost)

Books @ Ovid (Doody's Core Titles in the Health Sciences) offers 33 in-demand, full-text e-books in the field of nursing and medicine. Medline with Fulltext (at EBSCOhost) provides access to the definitive medical literature research database plus full text articles from 1,200 indexed journals.

These databases are now appearing on GALILEO menus for University System of Georgia institutions. Please note that Medline with Full Text (at EBSCOhost) has replaced Medline (at EBSCOhost) in menus.

— GALILEO Support Team

---

1936 Gainesville Tornado: Disaster and Recovery in production

Tuesday, July 3, 2007 - 2:24:50 pm

The 1936 Gainesville Tornado: Disaster and Recovery is now live in production at <http://dlg.galileo.usg.edu/tornado/> or through the GALILEO web site. An article in the Gainesville Times calls the new tornado web site "a one-stop look at a pivotal event"

(<http://www.gainesvilletimes.com/news/stories/20070701/localnews/182401.shtml>) In addition to the newspaper article, local promotion included an interview with Ed Johnson, Director of Georgia HomePLACE, on the Bill and Joel Morning Show on WDUN NewsTalk 550, with discussion on the film footage itself, the interactive map interface, some details of the tornado damage and the subsequent recovery, and upcoming additional material to be made available online in phase two. An announcement from the Digital Library of Georgia describing the resource is below. The resource is a project of the Digital Library of Georgia and the Hall County Library System as part of Georgia HomePLACE.

----- ANNOUNCEMENT -----

The Digital Library of Georgia is pleased to announce the availability of its newest site, The 1936 Gainesville Tornado: Disaster and Recovery. The site represents a collaboration between the Digital Library of Georgia and the Hall County Library System as part of Georgia HomePLACE. The project was made possible with support from federal LSTA funding administered by the Institute of Museum and Library Services through the Georgia Public Library Service, a unit of the Board of Regents of the University System of Georgia.

The 1936 Gainesville Tornado: Disaster and Recovery provides online access to a historical film depicting the extensive damage from the severe multi-funnel tornado strike that devastated Gainesville, Georgia, on April 6, 1936. The thirty-two-and-a-half minute film, probably shot for insurance purposes, focuses on the devastation of the commercial and governmental center of Gainesville, but also includes footage of damage to nearby residential areas. In particular, it features the damage to the public square, the county courthouse, the Georgia Power Company, the Cooper Pants Factory, and the First Methodist Church. The 1936 Gainesville tornado (part of a massive tornado outbreak across the Deep South that also heavily damaged Tupelo, Mississippi) is generally regarded as the fifth deadliest in U.S. history. Extensive recovery efforts involving many local, regional, state, and national resources eventually rebuilt Gainesville, culminating in the 1938 dedication of the new city hall and county courthouse by President Franklin Roosevelt.

The interactive map interface provides intuitive geographically-based access to selected film clips for which shooting locations have been identified. In addition, links to related still images in Vanishing Georgia and the Hall County Library System Historical Photograph Collection have been provided. Upcoming enhancements will include an online exhibit to provide additional information about the tornado event itself as well as coverage of the extensive recovery effort afterwards. The site also contains a brief history of the tornado, suggested readings, and lists of related links and archival materials.

----- END OF ANNOUNCEMENT -----

— GALILEO Support Team

---

FY08 Changes for Public K-12 Schools

Tuesday, June 26, 2007 - 4:30:06 pm

We are happy to announce that the Department of Education has finalized their FY08 GALILEO database offerings. In addition to the existing collection of K-12 GALILEO databases, public schools will now have access to a new suite of EBSCO databases.

The following databases will begin appearing on K-12 GALILEO menus in early July:

Academic Search Complete
Advanced Placement Source
Agricola
Book Collection: Nonfiction

Business Source Complete
Computer Science Index
Consumer Health Complete
Economia y Negocios
Environment Complete
Fuente Academica
Garden, Landscape & Horticulture Index
History Reference Center
Hospitality & Tourism Complete
Information Science & Technology Abstracts
Insurance Periodicals Index
International Bibliography of Theater & Dance with Full Text
Internet & Personal Computing Abstracts
Legal Collection
Literary Reference Center
Medic Latina
Science & Technology Collection
The Serials Directory
Vocational & Career Collection
World History Collection

Please see the GALILEO FY08 Changes document for further information on changes for all GALILEO participating institutions.

— GALILEO Support Team

---

The 1936 Gainesville Tornado: Disaster and Recovery available in demo

Tuesday, June 19, 2007 - 9:12:50 am

The 1936 Gainesville Tornado: Disaster and Recovery, a new resource from the Digital Library of Georgia and the Hall County Library System as part of Georgia HomePLACE, has been added to the GALILEO demo system and is available for your preview at <http://dlg.galileo.usg.edu/tornado/>. An announcement describing the resource from the Digital Library of Georgia is below.

----- ANNOUNCEMENT -----

The Digital Library of Georgia is pleased to announce the availability of its newest site, The 1936 Gainesville Tornado: Disaster and Recovery. The site represents a collaboration between the Digital Library of Georgia and the Hall County Library System as part of Georgia HomePLACE. The project was made possible with support from federal LSTA funding administered by the Institute of Museum and Library Services through the Georgia Public Library Service, a unit of the Board of Regents of the University System of Georgia.

The 1936 Gainesville Tornado: Disaster and Recovery provides online access to a historical film depicting the extensive damage from the severe multi-funnel tornado strike that devastated Gainesville, Georgia, on April 6, 1936. The thirty-two-and-a-half minute film, probably shot for insurance purposes, focuses on the devastation of the commercial and governmental center of Gainesville, but also includes footage of damage to nearby residential areas. In particular, it features the damage to the public square, the county courthouse, the Georgia Power Company, the Cooper Pants Factory, and the First Methodist Church. The 1936 Gainesville tornado (part of a massive tornado outbreak across the Deep South that also heavily damaged Tupelo, Mississippi) is generally regarded as the fifth deadliest in U.S. history. Extensive recovery efforts involving many local, regional, state, and national resources eventually rebuilt Gainesville, culminating in the 1938 dedication of the new city hall and county courthouse by President Franklin Roosevelt.

The interactive map interface provides intuitive geographically-based access to selected film clips for which shooting locations have been identified. In addition, links to related still images in Vanishing Georgia and the Hall County Library System Historical Photograph Collection have been provided. Upcoming enhancements will include an online exhibit to provide additional information about the tornado event itself as well as coverage of the extensive recovery effort afterwards. The site also contains a brief history of the tornado, suggested readings, and lists of related links and archival materials.

----- END OF ANNOUNCEMENT -----

— GALILEO Support Team

---

GALILEO FY08 Changes

Thursday, June 14, 2007 - 4:26:22 pm

GALILEO's database menus will change for all of our user communities in the new fiscal year that begins July 1. Though some groups have been faced with difficult decisions as in past years, due to the benefits of collaborative purchasing, each of our user communities continues to have access to a wide-ranging and valuable set of GALILEO resources. The Department of Education has not yet completed allocation of its FY08 budget so we are not yet sure what their specific FY08 GALILEO offerings will be, but we will be letting GALILEO users know as soon as that information is available. Please review the following for additions and removals. In addition, we are pleased to announce that several new private K-12 institutions and one new public library will be joining the GALILEO community. Welcome!

Additions

1. EBSCO

Beginning in early July 2007 a new suite of EBSCO databases will begin appearing on GALILEO menus for the following consortia: DTAE, University System of Georgia, AMPALS, GPALS, GISA (private K-12), and Public Libraries. This new suite contains the following databases, which will replace any current counterparts:

Academic Search Complete
Advanced Placement Source
Agricola
Book Collection: Nonfiction
Business Source Complete
Computer Science Index
Consumer Health Complete
Economia y Negocios
Environment Complete
Fuente Academica
Garden, Landscape & Horticulture Index
History Reference Center
Hospitality & Tourism Complete
Information Science & Technology Abstracts
Insurance Periodicals Index
International Bibliography of Theater & Dance with Full Text
Internet & Personal Computing Abstracts
Legal Collection
Literary Reference Center
Medic Latina
Science & Technology Collection
The Serials Directory
Vocational & Career Collection
World History Collection

2. ProQuest Nursing and Allied Health Source

Beginning in early July 2007, ProQuest Nursing and Allied Health Source will begin appearing on GALILEO menus for University System of Georgia institutions.

3. EBSCO Automobile Repair Reference Center

Beginning in early July 2007, EBSCO Automobile Repair Reference Center will begin appearing on GALILEO menus for Technical Colleges.

Removals

1. AccessScience

Effective July 1, 2007, AccessScience will be removed from GALILEO menus for the following consortia: DTAE, University System of Georgia, and Public Libraries.

2. ProQuest Dissertation Abstracts (free edition)

As previously announced, ProQuest is discontinuing free access to the most recent two years of dissertations/theses available through the Dissertation Abstracts product. Because of this, access to Dissertation Abstracts will be removed from the GALILEO menus for the following consortia: DTAE, Public Libraries, and Public and Private K-12 Schools.

— GALILEO Support Team

---

Clinical Pharmacology removed from GALILEO Menus 6-15-07

Thursday, June 14, 2007 - 8:38:08 am

The Clinical Pharmacology database has been phased out by EBSCO and is being replaced by Lexi-PALS drug information within the HealthSource Consumer and HealthSource Nursing/Academic Editions.

Starting Friday, June 15th Clinical Pharmacology will be removed from GALILEO menus. Instead of accessing this information through the stand alone database interface, EBSCO will automatically upgrade all customers content in Health Source: Consumer Edition and Health Source: Nursing/Academic Edition, both of which are available to all GALILEO participating institutions.

If you have a GALILEO Express Link that points to Clinical Pharmacology, please remove it from your sites. Here is the Express Link:

<http://www.galileo.usg.edu/express?link=zbcpr>

> Information from EBSCO on this change:

> EBSCO Publishing has partnered with Lexi-Comp, providers of the Lexi-PALS Patient Advisory information, which covers over 1,000 generic medications, 100 natural products and 19 vaccines. Enhancing your medical database subscription(s) with the Lexi-PALS content allows us to maintain the integrity and consistency of our products. Among the key benefits users will enjoy are:

> -- Increased currency, resulting from more frequent updates to Lexi-PALS information

> -- A higher volume of qualified search results, due to the inclusion of EBSCO's abstracting & indexing functionality

> -- A more streamlined presentation of drug information, making the user interface easier to use

If you have any questions or need more information, please use GALILEO's Contact Us feature or contact OIIT Customer Services at helpdesk@usg.edu.

— GALILEO Support Team

---

Windows Vista Compliance for GALILEO

Wednesday, May 30, 2007 - 8:45:19 am

Dear GALILEO Users,

We are pleased to announce that we have successfully completed Windows Vista compliance testing for the GALILEO site and features as well as the GALILEO databases. Below is a list of resources that GALILEO staff have tested to ensure compliance.

For additional information, please see the following documentation:

<http://www.usg.edu/galileo/help/tech/config.phtml>

GALILEO homepage including:

- *Find It and Journals A-Z
- *Quick Search
- *About GALILEO
- *GALILEO Help
- *GALILEO Express Links
- *GALILEO Kids Page
- *OLLC and GALILEO Tutorials

GALILEO Databases including:

- *ABC-CLIO databases
- *Britannica databases
- *CGF database
- *EBSCO databases
- *GaleGroup databases
- *ISI databases
- *LexisNexis
- *McGraw-Hill database
- *netLibrary
- *OCLC FirstSearch databases
- *Oxford University Press databases
- *ProQuest CSA databases

If you have any questions or need more information, please use GALILEO's Contact Us feature or contact OIIT Customer Services at helpdesk@usg.edu.

GALILEO announcements and status updates are available at:

<http://www.usg.edu/galileo/status/>

Information about the GALILEO mailing list is available at:
<http://www.usg.edu/galileo/about/news/list.phtml>

Please encourage others at your institution to subscribe.

Thank you,

— GALILEO Support Team

---

Britannica Learning Zone now available

Wednesday, May 2, 2007 - 9:32:36 am

Dear GALILEO users,

Britannica Learning Zone is now in production and accessible through GALILEO database menus.

Britannica Learning Zone is an all new, interactive PreK-2 learning environment that is now included as part of Britannica Online School Edition. This resource teaches concepts such as geography, time, shapes, numbers, and reinforces relevant vocabulary through developmentally-appropriate activities including an interactive atlas, learning games, engaging audio and video, and effective vocabulary builders. Additional information can be found on the PDF fact sheet http://www.eb.com/library/online/Learning\_Zone.pdf. This database is available to public libraries and K-12 school libraries.

The GALILEO Express Link to this database is:

<http://www.galileo.usg.edu/express?link=zelz>

If you have any questions or need more information, please use GALILEO's Contact Us feature or contact OIIT Customer Services at helpdesk@usg.edu.

GALILEO announcements and status updates are available at:
<http://www.usg.edu/galileo/status/>.

Information about the GALILEO mailing list is available at:
<http://www.usg.edu/galileo/about/news/list.phtml>.

Please encourage others at your institution to subscribe.

Thank you,

— GALILEO Support Team

---

Britannica Learning Zone now available in GALILEO Demonstration system

Wednesday, April 25, 2007 - 9:12:07 am

Dear GALILEO users,

Britannica Learning Zone is an all new, interactive PreK-2 learning environment that is now included as part of Britannica Online School Edition. This resource teaches concepts such as geography, time, shapes, numbers, and reinforces relevant vocabulary through developmentally-appropriate activities including an interactive atlas, learning games, engaging audio and video, and effective vocabulary builders. Additional information can be found on the PDF fact sheet http://www.eb.com/library/online/Learning\_Zone.pdf.

This database is available to public libraries and K-12 school libraries. It will be moved into the production system on May 2, 2007.

Britannica Learning Zone has been added to the GALILEO demo system <http://purl.galileo.usg.edu/demo>.

If you have any questions or need more information, please use GALILEO's Contact Us feature or contact OIIT Customer Services at helpdesk@usg.edu.

GALILEO announcements and status updates are available at: <http://www.usg.edu/galileo/status/>.

Information about the GALILEO mailing list is available at: <http://www.usg.edu/galileo/about/news/list.phtml>.

Please encourage others at your institution to subscribe.

Thank you,

— GALILEO Support Team

---

Arts of the United States available in demo

Monday, April 2, 2007 - 1:09:17 pm

Arts of the United States, a database of over 4000 images of works important to the study of the history of art in the United States, has been added to the GALILEO demo system and is available for your preview at <http://www.galileo.usg.edu/express?link=arts>. An announcement describing the resource from the Digital Library of Georgia is below.

----- ANNOUNCEMENT -----

Arts of the United States, a joint project between the Lamar Dodd Art School, University of Georgia and the University of Georgia and Yale University Libraries, contains over 4,000 images of works important to the study of the history of art in the United States. The pieces, dating from the 17th century through the 20th, include architecture, decorative arts, painting, sculpture, graphic arts, photography, and stage and costume design as well as Native American art and artifacts. Although the majority of artists represented in the database are American, significant works created by non-native artists while in the United States are included.

The database is derived from the Carnegie Arts of the United States photographic collection, which had its genesis four decades ago in the Carnegie Study of the Arts of the United States. The study began in 1956 as a multi-year project directed by Lamar Dodd, chairman of the University of Georgia's Department of Art, and was funded by grant from the (then) Carnegie Corporation. The study's objective was to create a collection of images that would support the teaching of American art.

The Arts of the United States database is available at:
<http://www.galileo.usg.edu/express?link=arts>

— GALILEO Support Team

---

"Integrated in All Respects": Ed Friend's Highlander Folk School Films available in demo

Monday, March 19, 2007 - 11:47:10 am

"Integrated in All Respects": Ed Friend's Highlander Folk School Films and the Politics of Segregation from the Richard B. Russell Library for Political Research and Studies has been added to the GALILEO demo system and is available for your preview at <http://dlg.galileo.usg.edu/highlander>. An announcement describing the resource from the Digital Library of Georgia is below.

----- ANNOUNCEMENT -----

The Digital Library of Georgia is pleased to announce the availability of its newest site, "Integrated in All Respects": Ed Friend's Highlander Folk School Films and the Politics of Segregation from the Richard B. Russell Library for Political Research and Studies. The Web site represents a collaboration between the Digital Library of Georgia, the Richard B. Russell Library for Political Research and Studies, and the Walter J. Brown Media Archives and Peabody Award Collection. The project received support through a National Leadership Grant from the Institute of Museum and Library Services as a part of the Civil Rights Digital Library initiative.

"Integrated in All Respects" consists of Ed Friend's film of the twenty-fifth anniversary of the Highlander Folk School in Monteagle, Tennessee during Labor Day weekend in 1957 and the Georgia Commission on Education's propaganda broadside that features Friend's photographs and stills from his film. Founded in 1932, the Highlander Folk School served as an adult education center to promote social and economic justice. By the 1950s, the school began to focus on the Civil Rights movement and trained many of the movement's activists including Septima Clark and Rosa Parks. Sent by the Georgia Commission on Education, an anti-integration state committee founded during Marvin Griffin's administration, Ed Friend filmed the anniversary festivities without revealing his motives. Labor and civil rights activists such as Ralph Abernathy, Myles Horton, Martin Luther King, Jr., Aubrey Williams, Charles G. Gomillion, Rosa Parks, Abner W. Berry, Pete Seeger, Harry Schneiderman, Ralph Helstein, A. T. Walden, and Maurice McCrackin are featured in the footage. Friend also documented the integrated social activities during the weekend including dining, swimming, and dancing. Much of the footage and many stills were incorporated into the Commission's broadside linking the school and its civil rights activities with the communist movement.

— GALILEO Support Team

---

EBSCOhost Winter 2007 Enhancements

Thursday, March 8, 2007 - 12:16:32 pm

Features of the EBSCOhost winter release are now appearing for GALILEO libraries. EBSCOhost databases now feature the following enhancements:

- * When searching multiple databases, users now see a list of those databases being searched on the Basic and Advanced Search screens.
- * The Advanced Guided Style Search Screen includes a link allowing users to add a row of Find/Select fields to the existing set of three, up to a maximum of twelve (12) rows.
- * The Sign in (to My EBSCOhost) and New Search links have swapped positions at the top of the search screen.
- * The Autocomplete features provides suggestions for terms partially entered in the Find field. For details, please see this FAQ:
http://support.epnet.com/knowledge\_base/detail.php?id=3292

Visit EBSCO's Support Site (<http://support.ebsco.com>) for information about new features, to search thousands of FAQs, and to download Flash tutorials, Help Sheets and User Guides.

— GALILEO Support Team

---

Pandora: Yearbook of the University of Georgia available in demo

Tuesday, February 27, 2007 - 8:39:45 am

Pandora: Yearbook of the University of Georgia from the Hargrett Rare Book and Manuscript Library is now available in the GALILEO demo system.

See: <http://dlg.galileo.usg.edu/pandora>

Since 1886, the Pandora has been the yearbook of the University of Georgia. Starting as a publication of the fraternities, the Pandora combined facts, photography, cartooning and humor (of varying quality) to provide an annual record of University activities. Its serious and satirical articles both provide interesting historical details about student life on campus and in Athens.

This initial offering provides scans of the first few years published, 1886-1899, volumes 1-12. Volumes were not published for 1889 and 1891. Later volumes will be added over time.

The Pandora site is a partnership between the Digital Library of Georgia and the Hargrett Rare Book and Manuscript Library.

— GALILEO Support Team

---

WorldCat Dissertations and Theses in demo

Thursday, February 15, 2007 - 4:45:00 pm

WorldCat Dissertations and Theses has been added to the GALILEO demo system. WorldCat Dissertations and Theses includes all dissertations, theses and published material based on theses cataloged by OCLC members in all subject areas. Links to openly available electronic copies are provided when available. This subset of WorldCat is available through GALILEO to public libraries, USG, AMPALS, GPALS, and technical college subscribers. It will be moved into the production system on February 21, 2007.

— GALILEO Support Team

---

Scopus Trial Ended January 2007

Thursday, February 15, 2007 - 4:32:58 pm

Effective January 9th, access to the Elsevier Scopus trial through GALILEO will be discontinued for institutions who have not requested continued access.

— GALILEO Support Team

---

Free access to Dissertation Abstracts Discontinued July 2007

Thursday, February 15, 2007 - 1:44:36 pm

ProQuest has recently announced that on July 1, 2007 they will be discontinuing free access to the current two years of dissertations and theses through the Dissertation Abstracts database, currently available to all GALILEO institutions, on July 1, 2007.

University System of Georgia, AMPALS, and GPALS will continue to have full access to the entire Dissertation Abstracts database through their subscription with ProQuest.

If you have any questions or need more information, please use GALILEO's Contact Us feature or contact OIIT Customer Services at helpdesk@usg.edu.

— GALILEO Support Team